Behaviour:

Amir, you're an active, friendly, and responsible team member. You work really well with others and I genuinely think that the role of Team Leader suits you perfectly. However, I think you should remain calm and composed in situations where we're at high risk and make decisions with a clear head, without unnecessary emotions

Emotion:

It makes me feel panicked and tense as well and lost my leader spirit.

Consequence:

As a result, this can sometimes affect the quality of the team work making it harder for us to organize everything.

Desirable Method:

We could discuss solutions to any problem together without stress by communicating.
